The 21st International Conference Radioelektronika 2011 is organized by Czech and Slovak technical universities in order to create a discussion forum for researchers, academics, experts, and students from Central Europe who are interested in the latest development in the area of radio electronics and related disciplines. The official language of the conference is English.

The conference covers three main topics: Electronic Circuits and Systems, Signal Processing and Applications, and Antennas – Microwaves – Lightwaves. Each section will contain prestigious invited papers.

The conference is indexed and abstracted in IEEE Xplore and in Conference Proceedings Citation Index – ISI Web of Knowledge.

Venue

The 21st International Conference Radioelektronika 2011 will be held at Hotel Myslivna, Brno Kohoutovice. Brno is a city of more than 1,000 years long history. Brno is a city of approximately 400,000 inhabitants.

Brno can be easily reached by train, bus or car. There is also presently a limited number of flights to Brno. The venue can be easily reached by public transport.
